Rev. G. E. Morrison was hanged at Vernon, Texas, for the murder of his wife, the crime being remarkable for its cold-blooded fiendishness. He protested his innocence on the scaffold and his last words were "I am in the hands of my Maker."

The assignment of D. A. Sayre & Co. bankers, Lexington, has caused a big sensation in financial circles. The institution had in deposits about $140,000, while its capital stock is but $37,000, making the concern liable for but twice this amount.

A New Mexico man was tried at Albuquerque for murder, because he set a spring gun in his tool house, which killed the thief who entered it, but the judge held that he was guilty of no crime, as a man has the right to protect his own property.

The foot ball world was given a rude shock Saturday when Columbia beat Yale, when Cornell defeated Princeton, and when Chicago outplayed Pennsylvania at every stage of the game. The results leave foot ball supremacy for this year very much in doubt.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton S. D. "Was taken with a cold which settled on my lungs, coughed in and finally settled in my lungs, coughed in and finally settled in my lungs, coughed in and finally settled in my lungs, but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would go to heaven above. My doctor was advised to give Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, so I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

LANCASTER.

Don't fail to hear Hon. Alf. Taylor at the court house Wednesday night. Water works will carry at the polls, and we expect the Southern railroad extension.

Hon. R. H. Tomlinson has returned from Kansas City and Dakota, where he has some real estate, of which he speaks very highly.

Rev. H. N. Faulconer preached at Mt. Olivet church, in Shelby county, from Monday to Sunday, and had 27 admissions.

The republicans will lose five votes; one on account of a murder at Bryantville, and four colored men being lately lodged in jail for different offenses.

There is not half the drinking of liquor nor half the number of difficulties here now, that was when saloons were operated. Besides, the town is more prosperous than ever before, and saloons had nothing to do with it.

After a very short illness William R. Jennings, a prominent business man of Paint Lick, succumbed to acute pneumonia yesterday morning. He was a former Lancaster citizen, a member of the Knights of Pythias order and was prominently connected. A wife and one child survive him.

Democrats who don't like the platform had better vote with the party and correct the evil hereafter. If republicans get in power, matters will be worse. Family troubles should be settled at home, instead of destroying the family ties and going among strangers for comfort.

Gov. Bradley will arrive here on a special train, on Nov. 3d, at 4:15 P. M., and speak one hour in behalf of the republican State ticket. He is the acknowledged leader of that party in the State, and his oratory might have helped the ticket if he had begun sooner, but a metallic argument is all that will do any good now.

Sheriff James Sanders sold his farm near McCreary, containing 230 acres, to Mr. Coy, of Madison, for $9,000. Dr. J. B. Kinnaird bought of F. M. Bookout the brick part of the Peacock property on Danville Ave., for $1,300. He will use the building for an office and the several rooms will be furnished handsomely, and heated by a furnace. He sold his office on Stanford Ave., to Mr. A. H. Bastin, for the telephone exchange for $800.

The county board of election commissioners met on Friday and appointed the following election officers, the order being sheriff, clerk, and the last two, judges: court house, Claverton Arnold, R. M. Moss, Jr., R. M. Moss, Sr., and J. W. Hamilton; East Park, J. N. Denny, Wm. Smith, Henry Patterson and Ben Oaks; West Park, L. F. Hubbell, Jas. Clark, A. D. Nord and Dr. E. Evans; East Bryantville, L. W. Hudson, A. D. Upton, C. A. Robinson and Jno. Boner; West Bryantville, J. B. Rubles, S. S. Dickerman, G. B. Robinson and J. R. Jennings; Buckeye, Elijah Ray, J. M. Walker, W. N. Carter and Frank Pierce; Union, W. J. Lusk, J. C. Napier, Wm. Tudor, and W. L. Lawson; Paint Lick, G. T. Ballard, Dwight Woods, Tom Ralston and Thos. Thompson; Walker's School House, Jas. Jones, Jonah Moberly, Joe Adam and Reuben Prather. After the session, Squire W. T. Pherigo, the republican member, mailed his resignation to the State board, giving as a reason, that the board did not appoint the list offered by him. This leaves T. Robinson and J. W. Flowers alone on the board. They claim that they appointed several of the men, who were suggested by Mr. Pherigo. Among the republicans appointed, is an ex-assessor, an ex-representative and other good men whom I know. I do not know the entire list, but that party cannot afford to say that they are bad men, because they are republicans. Still there is considerable dissatisfaction. If any advantage was taken, it should be remembered that both parties have always taken any advantage in their power, in conventions, committee rooms, and at the polls, even to buying a voter's right of suffrage. Again it should be remembered that two beats one, just as eight beat seven, after Tilden was elected in 1876. "Politics is business," was once expressed by a leading republican here, and he told the truth. It does not invade the sacred precincts of morality. That which is politic is ingenious in pursuing any scheme for personal aggrandizement, without regard to the morality of the measure. There is a vast difference between moral rectitude and political sagacity, as practised now. I know men in both parties who would take any advantage in politics, who would not swindle a man out of a penny in an ordinary transaction. So a criticism offered by either party regarding the acts of the other, is like the pot calling the kettle black.

FROM PAINT LICK.

Lewis Walker, republican candidate for the legislature, spoke at Paint Lick Saturday evening to a few republicans and Negroes. He took his text on Goebel and tried to make him out one of the grandest rascals that ever went unhung. After he let up on Goebel, he lit on the election commissioners and what he did for them was a plenty. He said they appointed republican officers that had softening of the brain and some that could not read or write. Judging from the speech, I think Lewis has softening of the brain, himself, or something more serious.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Gordon Montgomery and Miss Edna Staples are to wed at Columbia, Nov. 8.

There are 44 divorce cases on the docket of the Polaski circuit court, which is in session.

Robert Johnson, a widower with six children, was married at Cloverport to Miss Julia Rogers, 17.

James B. Adams and Miss Melle F. Broughton, only 15, were married at J. A. Broughton's Saturday.

Miss Susan B. Anthony is one of the few bachelor girls who makes no secret of her age. She'll be 80 next February.

At Louisa, David Mead committed suicide by drowning himself in the Big Sandy river because a girl refused to marry him.

Mrs. Mary Mallory, of Charleston, S. C., is seeking a divorce because her husband refuses to kiss her since she had her teeth pulled.

The Baltimore News says: Chief William C. McAfee, of the Baltimore City Fire department, and Mrs. McAfee, who was Miss Mary Holmes Lusk, of Hustonville, Ky., have arrived in Baltimore and went at once to their future home at 601 Lennox street.

A number of very handsome wedding presents were received. Included among others was a magnificent silver service from the uniformed members of the department. There are 10 pieces to the service, which is a duplicate of that presented to Admiral Schley some time ago. Each piece is beaten silver and has engraved on it the initials "M. L. McA." standing for Mary Lusk McAfee. The service was manufactured by the silversmith firm of Charles C. Steiff & Co. Chief McAfee will return to duty on Friday.

The will of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt bequeaths an estate estimated at $70,000,000. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the second son, will get from 40,000,000 to $50,000,000, thus becoming the head of the family. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., the eldest son, will only receive $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is to be held in trust. The other brothers and sisters get about $7,500,000 each. Mrs. Vanderbilt is to receive $2,000,000 in cash and an income of $250,000 a year. The family residence and other real estate is willed to the widow and the younger children. Chauncey M. Depew is remembered with $200,000. Vanderbilt University at Nashville is given $50,000, and Yale University $100,000. A number of religious and charitable institutions are provided for.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammatory condition of the brain, and is not a disease of the ear. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing cannot be restored. In nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Clarium Cure. Send for circulars free.

The Bowling Green Times tells of a ginseng farm in Grayson county, consisting of 100 acres of timber. Under one tree there was recently gathered five pounds of this valuable root. It is worth $3 per pound and the owner figures that he will make $750 per acre, making the farm of 100 acres of timber worth $75,000.

The '99 apple crop amounts to 35,000,000 barrels, or something over two barrels for every family in the country. Now, will some one kindly figure out the number of apple pies the crop will make?

The annual report of the dead letter office shows that it received from all sources 6,855,983 pieces of mail matter, nearly 9 per cent increase over last year. Money and drafts bound in the dead letters aggregate $1,168,000.

A dispatch says an 89-year-old Bowling Green man is rejoicing over the advent of a son, but the old man oughtn't to be too cock sure.

Only one drunken man has been in Woodburn, Warren county, in the last two years. A blessed place to live.

On the 10th of December, 1897, Rev. S.

A. Donahoe, pastor M. E. Church, South Pt. Pleasant, W. Va., contracted a severe cold which was attended from the beginning by violent coughing. He says: "Almost resorted to a number of so called 'specifics' usually kept in the house, to purpose, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which acted like charms. I most cheerfully recommend it to the public." For sale by Craig &

SENATOR GOEBEL.
THE MANNER OF MAN THE NEXT GOVERNOR IS.

This splendid tribute to Senator Goebel is from a speech by that eloquent orator and fearless democrat, Hon. W. T. Ellis, of Owensboro:

The democratic nominee for governor of Kentucky stands in these, the closing hours of his campaign, untouched by his assailants, unscathed by their criticisms and without the smell of fire upon his garments.

He stands, like the manly man he is, the embodiment of integrity, candor, fair dealing and truth. From obscure and penniless youth, he has on his own merits risen like a star until he stands today one of the ablest lawyers and, without question, the ablest and most fearless exponent of democracy in Kentucky. The history of this young man's life, his struggles and his triumphs ought to be an inspiration to every peniless boy who is ambitious enough to leave behind him the record of an honorable life or to write his name indelibly upon the history of his State.

The people of Kentucky will rebuke those who have so unjustly and so foully misrepresented and slandered him. When the votes are counted in November the triumphant shout of democracy will be that we shall have "Goebel and Goebelism" in Kentucky for at least four years to come.

And when the smoke and dust of this campaign have subsided, and fair-minded men have had time to reflect, there will not be a corporal's guard left in all the Commonwealth who will not be willing to join in the acclaim: All honor and praise to that obscure youth, who has so nobly and grandly fought his way up from the bottom to the top.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Helen Gould has given $6,000 to be used in a crusade against Mormonism.

The number of conversions in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church declined from 10,370 in 1898 to 8,006 in 1899.

On account of small-pox, the Virginian Baptist General Association will be held at Richmond Nov. 17, instead of Bristol.

Elder P. H. Alkins, of the Christian church at Harrodsburg, will be married this evening to Miss Emma Currey, a handsome and popular lady of Mercer.

The ladies' praise service at the Presbyterian church was largely attended and much enjoyed. The papers read by Mrs. M. C. Saufley and Mrs. Steele Bailey have greatly complimented.

Mr. Barnes' meetings are drawing good audiences and interest in them is growing. They will continue at the opera house every evening at seven o'clock until further notice.—Advocate.

Mr. J. E. Bruce, who attended the Christian church jubilee at Cincinnati, says that the churches at Frankfort, Hustonville and Stanford contributed more largely to Sunday School missions and were given mention in the roll of honor.

By a vote of 22 to 13 the Synod of Kentucky, in session at Bowling Green, decided that women could not be ordained as ministers of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

or Governor, WILLIAM GOEBEL.
For Lieutenant Governor, J. C. W. BECKHAM.
For Attorney General, R. J. BRECKINRIDGE.
For Auditor, GUS G. COULTER.
For Treasurer, S. W. HAGER.
For Secretary of State, C. BRECK HILL.
For Superintendent of Public Instruction, HARRY MCCHESEY.
For Commissioner of Agriculture, ION B. NALL.
For Railroad Commissioner, C. C. MCCHORD.
For Representative, M. F. NORTH.

GEN. WATTERSON we salute you! Your editorials for the democratic ticket for the last several days have been models of convincing arguments and in every way worthy of the man who has in days gone by done so much for the cause of democracy. After comparing Goebel to Andy Johnson and that he has that direct and incisive cast of mind, Johnson's sympathy with the lowly and the poor among the people; and the faculty, which Johnson had, of drawing upon himself the detestation and distrust of the aristocratic and the rich, Mr. Watterson adds: "The elite of Main Street do not like Mr. Goebel any better than the elite of Tennessee liked Andrew Johnson. Naturally the board of trade, being a semi-republican side-show, holds him in holy horror. But nothing can defeat his election. He is going to be our next governor; and we predict that he will disappoint the forebodings and baffle the prognostications of those who are so ready and eager to prophesy evil against him." Then commencing with the accomplished and able Breckinridge, the great editor pays each of the men composing the democratic ticket, the highest praise and says no Kentuckian can look at the list without a feeling of pride. There is no odor of republicanism about it and no sickening smell of railroad grease. Finally in his own convincing way Mr. Watterson urges democrats to support the ticket and save the State another republican administration. They are dead sure to do it too and Mr. Goebel's going to be the next governor as sure the sun will rise on the day set apart for the inauguration.

IF Preacher Coleman has everybody indicted who holds the same opinion of him that Editor J. E. Thompson, of the Bracken Chronicle, does, he will have his hands full. The old rooster, who got mad because his man wasn't nominated and then began a crusade to "stamp out Goebelism," ought to stray around the country a little and find out what decent preachers and others think of him and he would possibly accept Bro. Thompson's opinion as being the mildest and least objectionable to him of any. No jury will ever convict the editor of libelling such a man, but, perchance, it should fine him, thousands of people will gladly help him pay it.

IN an interview Senator John Sherman, of Ohio, says that McKinley's policy of imperialism is abhorrent to those who love liberty, and while he should hate to see him defeated, he feels confident he will be. He also takes a whack at Nash, the republican candidate for governor of Ohio, and says he is weighted down with Hanna. Towards Foraker he was very bitter, saying he had no honor financially or otherwise. As Sherman is the father of Ohio republicanism his words are ominous, and the Enquirer is using them for all they are worth.

STUART R. KNOTT, first vice president of the L. & N., has resigned to accept the general management of the Plant System at $20,000 a year. Mr. Knott is said to be one of the finest traffic men in the country, as well as one of the smoothest and cleverest men in the business. Y. Van den Berg has been elected his successor and A. W. Graham has been named to succeed Mr. Van den Berg as traffic manager. Mr. Knott takes an European tour before he begins his new job.

Vice President Hobart is believed to be dying at his home in Paterson, New Jersey.

GEN. BASIL DUKE was a gallant Confederate soldier under the brave and dauntless Gen. John H. Morgan. He was a good citizen before the war and has made a useful one since, but he is losing his reputation both for bravery and high standing in his older years. Last week, Mr. Goebel was in Louisville, his home, charging on every stump that Gen. Duke is an L. & N. lobbyist and a political corruptionist. In days of yore, if the charge be untrue, Gen. Duke would have gone to his assailant and demanded personal satisfaction. Not so now. Instead he rushes to a printing office in which Mr. Goebel would not be caught dead in and vents his spleen in a card, which that concern flaunts with great glee, in which the general exclaims, like they do in Ohio when confronted with a personal charge, "you're another." Alas and alack that we have fallen into such evil and degenerate times. Gen. Duke will have to be reduced to the ranks.

Gen. Duke's rhodomantado didn't scare Mr. Goebel worth a cent. He is handicapped, of course, from entering into a personal row at present, but in his speech the same night that the general's card appeared, he spoke of the general as a tiger, and correcting himself substituted cur, proceeding then to give him an even worse dose than ever. Mr. Goebel construes Gen. Duke's card as a personal threat, and an attempt to run him out of Louisville, and for that reason he will return this week and defy his traducers, whose malignity is so apparent that it is making the democratic candidate for governor votes even in the city, which the republicans claim as their stronghold. Hired speakers and subsidized newspapers have overdone their task of abusing Mr. Goebel and their effort has reacted till even Louisville is set down as sure for him by 2,500 majority. All of the people can not be fooled all of the time.

WHILE democrats will mark under the rooster as shown on this page, thereby voting for the whole democratic ticket, making it useless for us to appeal for the support of any special candidate, we want to urge the importance of the election of Hon. C. C. McChord for railroad commissioner. He has served most satisfactorily in that capacity and he is the author of the bill, whose passage is promised in the democratic platform. Everybody, democrat or republican, who wants a check put on the rapacity of the railroads should see that his vote is cast for McChord, who is eminently fitted to perform the duties that the bill imposes fairly to the railroads and the people.

THE last week of the campaign finds the democracy in the best of fighting trim and eager for the final fray. We have never seen true democrats so enthusiastic and determined as now and if Taylor and his motley crew are not wiped off the face of the earth all signs go for naught. We have the fullest confidence that every democrat will be at the polls next Tuesday to give Goebel and his superb ticket the old time Tilden majority and to set forever the seal of condemnation on bolters and turncoats. Let us all do our full duty and all will be well.

THE Georgetown Times says that Torney General Taylor said after the inauguration of a republican administration: "We have been 30 years getting in here, and now that we have the returning board, the democrats will never remember getting in power again." Things have changed since then, however, and "we" haven't the returning board to count out democrats as will as in 1896. The election next week will be absolutely fair and the result will show that Taylor and his crowd are snowed under by fully 30,000 majority.

SOME of the dirty, lying republicans are telling the Germans and those who do not know any better, that if Goebel is elected no man can vote thereafter unless he is worth $500 and can show a receipt for his taxes and if he can not read or write he will be entirely disfranchised. Of course men, who are posted, will not be deceived by such a lie, and it is with those who are not, that the lying brutes get in their work.

SENATOR LINDSAY told the Cincinnati Enquirer that he will wait to see the complexion of the new Legislature before saying whether he is a candidate for re-election or not. It will be white, very white, and no bolters or turncoats will be recognized. The Senator will not be a candidate for re-election therefore, we infer.

A LETTER from Acting Chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, Hon. David H. Smith, compliments us for the strong fight we have made for democracy. It has been a hard fought battle, he says, but it is won, and the credit is largely due to the unpurchasable newspapers of the State.

PROVIDENCE seems to have intervened to shut off John Young Brown, for which relief much thanks. His physician says he must lay up till his leg gets well and make no more speeches.

Judge T. Z. Morrow spoke at Lancaster for the Taylor ticket. About 150 heard him.

THE Lexington Herald is proving by Messrs. S. V. Rowland, C. S. Nield and other coal miners that the L. & N. is alive to the interest of enterprises along its line and willing to help them along too, without sacrificing its own interests. Nobody has claimed otherwise. The road is managed by competent men, who are quick to see where the road's interests lie and are fast to embrace them. Its officers are clever men and gentlemen. But that isn't the point. They are trying to use the power of their great corporation to control the politics of the State and defeat democracy. There's where we take issue with them and on that point it is a fight to the finish, with the people sure to win.

AT Campbellsville yesterday 17 young ladies on horseback and dressed in white met Senator Goebel and escorted him to town, where 500 ladies and gentlemen on horseback escorted him around, preceded by brass band. The democratic candidate was enthusiastically cheered all along the line and when he spoke 4,000 people crowded to hear him. There never was such a political demonstration in Taylor county and the roads are down in the mouth.

JOEL BAKER, formerly of Covington, who was imported from Chicago to blackguard Senator Goebel, was given a deserved drubbing in Cincinnati Sunday by Covington men, who took his pistol from him, mashed his countenance out of shape, and fixed him so he will be ashamed to appear at his speaking appointment. Of all the Senator's traducers this fellow is the dirtiest and every decent man will be glad he got a dose.

IT is reported that the L. & N. pays its orators $50 a speech, but we don't believe it. The management is too sharp to pay that amount when 50c would be high for many that have been foisted on the public.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

Eph Lillard called Bill Sweeney down at Nicholasville, when he commenced to abuse Goebel in his speech.

Ex Congressman Pilkcock, of New Jersey, a bankrupt, files a schedule, showing $53,000 liabilities and no assets.

The republicans claim they will carry Rockcastle by 800, but The Signal says the majority will not be half that large.

The L. & N. orators will soon be out of a job, and the Lord only knows when they will ever get another at $50 per speak.—Taylorsville Courier.

Gov. James B. McCreary spoke to a good crowd at Brandenburg Saturday. He was followed by Hal Corbett, a Brownie, who failed to hold the crowd.

The so-called Rev. Fred Hale is to make speeches in Daviess county against the democratic ticket, but as Urey Woodson will attend to him, no one else need worry.

That grand old democrat, Gen. T. T. Garrard, in remitting for two or three papers that he sends, says: "I and my family are for Goebel and the straight democratic ticket."

Hon. J. W. Mitchell says that his county, Jessamine, will give the democratic ticket 250 to 300 majority and the 8th district will give 1,800 to 2,000. He figures Goebel's majority at 35,000.

Judge W. L. Brown, of London, lays claim to the job of H. C. Eversole in the 27th district, his contention being that the latter's election was illegal, according to a recent appellate court decision.

When Gov. Bob Taylor was asked what he knew of the origin of the Kentucky senator, he replied: "I do not know for certain who his ancestors were, but I am led to believe he is the son of old Rosin de bow."

Of Torney General Taylor's speech at Somerset, the Journal says: "Taken as a whole, it was very weak, being merely a broken chain of unproven assertions, a tirade of abuse and a considerable waving of the bloody shirt."

Col. J. Sel Miller, of Louisville, says: "Goebel will carry Louisville and Jefferson county by not less than 2,500, perhaps 5,000, and the State from 25,000 to 40,000. I will bet $100 to $75 that Goebel carries Louisville and Jefferson county by 2,500, and the republicans are claiming it up in the thousands."

It is evidently a part of the desperate scheme of the L. & N., now that it has failed to shake public confidence in his ability and courage, to provoke Senator Goebel into a personal difficulty that will result in his killing or being killed. The brutal blackguardism of Owens, Hallam and the subsidized L. & N. organs appears to have been directed from the beginning to this devilish and desperate consummation.

—Louisville Times.

In order to show his own popularity as well as that of the cause he espouses Roaring Bill Sweeney tells in his speeches that he can't be beat for Commonwealth's attorney in the Lebanon district and that no Goebel admirer would dare run against him for the nomination for that office. The great man who pretends he is for John Young Brown will learn a thing or two when he shys his castor in the ring again. A gentleman from that county, who was here recently, said: "Even the dogs don't notice Bill Sweeney down in my section."

Many others in his district say virtually the same thing about him.

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Circuit court at Somerset has adjourned until after the election.

C. D. Maddrell's dwelling at Tateville was destroyed by fire by unknown origin.

Christian Bros., of Indianapolis, have opened a branch lumber yard at Junction City.

All the port captains of the island of Cuba have been placed under the command of Capt. Lucien Young.

At the Watts ore mines near Middlesboro, John Barnes, a miner, was probably fatally shot by James Underwood, a foreman.

The Willard correspondent of the Mt. Vernon Signal says that William Rainey, of Jackson county, who is 102 years old, was there last week.

The railroad company's electric light plant is about complete and it won't be many nights before the yards are lighted with arc lights.—Somerset P. H. Journal.

The Centre College foot ball team was defeated by the Cincinnati University Saturday 20 to 0, and while there was no complaint on the score of defeat, as Cincinnati was clearly superior, the members of the team were very bitter as to the rough treatment which was dealt out to them.

The Venezuela Award.

The court of arbitration that has been sitting in Paris for many weeks discussing the respective claims of Great Britain and Venezuela as to the just and proper boundary between the possessions of those nations in South America has concluded its work, reaching a unanimous conclusion and thus dispensing with the necessity of calling in the distinguished referee chosen to render a decision in the event of a disagreement by the arbitrators. It could have hardly been expected that this tribunal, though made up of most eminent and upright jurists, would reach a verdict wholly satisfactory to both litigants, as one or the other or both must of necessity be forced to surrender some firmly held traditions. The conclusion reached, which is somewhat in the nature of a compromise, seems to be reasonably satisfactory to the parties in interest, and if they are satisfied those on the outside have no reason to complain. Great Britain gives up something. Venezuela yields at points. At all events, Great Britain gets a little less than some of her statesmen have claimed, and Venezuela retains more than she would have saved if she had decided to submit her case to settlement by the sword.

The British claim to the southeastern side of the mouth of the Orinoco river is sustained, and the whole coast up to that point is given to her, though the Orinoco remains a free river. The great region lying between Mount Roraima and the Orinoco, including the upper basins of the Cuyuni and Caroni rivers, a region vast in extent and reported to be rich in gold, is awarded to Venezuela.

The determination of this vexed question is chiefly of importance and interest in the United States as a triumph for the American policy of arbitration and an illustration of the superiority of this method of settling international disputes over the arbitrament of the sword. We have reason to be gratified that through our instrumentality there has been ended a controversy that has intermittently raged for three-quarters of a century and which had threatened warlike complications involving not only Great Britain and Venezuela, but this country.

Rev. Mr. Hobson, the pastor of a church in Lyons, Neb., whose members are not overstocked with this world's goods, has been giving a lesson in well doing deserving of commendation. The little flock did not find it possible to pay him a salary for the pearls of wisdom that fall from his lips and the gleams of hope that radiate from him. This, however, does not keep the good man from preaching just as earnestly and praying just as fervently for the salvation of his hearers as if they were all millionaires and he was receiving a salary of $20,000 a year. In addition to preaching for nothing, he rings the church bell, sweeps out the sanctuary, provides the fuel necessary to warm the edifice and sincerely cries aloud, "Whoever will may come." Such earnestness as is shown by this Nebraska preacher and by the English clergyman who recently donned overalls and blouse and painted his church because the congregation could not afford to hire a painter confounds the skeptics and pessimists, who declare that there is no vitality and no devotion in the religion of today and who insist that the preaching of the gospel has become a trade.

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY GOSSIP.

DR. R. GOLDSTEIN, the optician, will be at the St. Asaph, Nov. 6.

MISS BELLE DENNY has returned from a visit to relatives in Madison.

MISS LAURA LEE JARBOE spent Sunday and yesterday at her home in Lebanon.

RICHARD GENTRY, of Lexington, spent Sunday with his sister and brother here.

MRS. BETTIE C. MCKINNEY is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Yager, in Louisville.

FRANK WILKINSON and wife, of Burgin, were guests of Ed Wilkinson and family.

MR. E. W. SMITH returned to Norfolk, Va., Saturday, taking with him his son, Ned.

MRS. J. S. WELLS and daughter, of Danville, are visiting at Hon. John S. Owles, Sr's.

MR. J. THOMAS CHERRY and his wife, of Brodhead, were here a few days since.

MRS. J. H. STEPHENS, of Livingston, spent several days with her sister, Mrs. B. K. Wearen.

MORRIS WALLS, of Kingsville, is learning the tonsorial art in Ed Wilkinson's barber shop.

DR. L. B. COOK leaves for Chicago today, where he will take a post-graduate course in medicine.

DR. A. S. PRICE is again at his office, after spending a week with his mother, Mrs. N. B. Price, in Garrard.

MRS. ROBERT FLANIGAN and daughter, Nellie, have gone to Cincinnati to visit her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Sloyer, and other relatives.

HALDON GRIMES, of Harrodsburg, State central committeeman for the Brownies, was here with Candidate D. W. Vandever and others.

W. W. PENN, who has made a mighty good marshal at Junction City, is an applicant again for the position. John Minor is his opponent.

MRS. LEWIS ROSSELL, of Stanford, and daughter, Mrs. S. P. Bobbitt, of Bloomington, Ill., are the guests of Mrs. J. M. Sibold.—Lexington Leader.

MR. JOE S. GRIMES, of Elizabethtown, thinks $2 a year little enough for the INTERIOR JOURNAL, so he sends that sum. The amount puts his date to Sept., 1901.

THE Louisville Post sent a copy of its appeal to the women of Kentucky to help defeat Goebel to Miss Sue Rout, who very promptly mailed it back to that disreputable sheet.

MR. A. A. MCKINNEY gave an opposition supper the other night to the following boys, who ate so much they had been hungry since: Clay and Lee Rupley, John and George Menefee and Winfred Duncan.

MR. ROBERT FENZEL has secured a position in the large jewelry firm of Frank Binder, at Greenville, Miss., and will go thither in a day or two. He is a very competent workman and will give satisfaction.

OUR friend, W. J. Brown, of Somerset, who had the smallpox recently, is on the stump again. He and Matthew Warren, also of that place, are down for a dozen speeches in Pulaski this week for the democratic ticket.

WE have good reason to believe that our young friend, Geo. A. Dunaway, of Hustonville, is going to soon become a Benedict. He has just contracted for a pretty cottage to be built on the vacant lot between his home and the bank building and of course he is not going to occupy it alone.

WHILE at the Knights of Pythias, grdn. lodge at Paducah last week, George B. Wearen engaged as book-keeper for Baker, Echols, & Co., a wholesale grocery firm of that city and will move his family down next week. He will remain a member of the firm of B. K. Wearen & Son until that firm closes out, which it will probably do by Jan. 1.

THE Maccabees of Junction City will give a mock initiation at their new hall on the night of Nov. 17.

HON. M. F. NORTH will speak at Sugar Grove school-house tomorrow night, 1st, at 7 P. M. Go and hear him.

NOTICE.—Pay your city taxes to L. R. Hughes. After Nov. 1st, 6 per cent will be added and collections enforced. O. J. Newland, city marshal.

FOR SALE.—A rubber tire phantom, a harness gelding and harness. Will also rent the house on East Main Street where I now live. G. B. Wearen.

SAM JONES will lecture at Walton's Opera House, Monday night, Nov. 13. Beazley & Menefee are the promoters of the scheme to give our people something lively and sensational.

A WEEK from today the silent battle of the ballots will be fought. Democrats buckle on your armor, present a solid front and never cease your vigilance till the last fox expires.

THE bolters and the Louisville Dispatch have only a week longer to abuse Goebel and be patted on the back by republicans in return. The rads wont notice either after the election.

THE republicans are scared, devilish scared. Else why all these special trains and all this speaking and exhortation to bloody deeds on election day. We've got 'em, we've got 'em dead sure.

THE L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to Richmond, Va., from Stanford, Nov. 5-6, at $15.52, and other stations in proportion, good till the 14th, on account of the unveiling of the Winnie Davis monument on the 7th.

EGBERT BAYS, a 17 year old boy, is in jail at Mt. Vernon, charged with shooting into the house of A. N. Bentley at Livingston Saturday night. The glass door was completely shattered and Mrs. Bentley had left it only a few seconds before.

JUDGE VARNON says we were mistaken in saying "The People's" ticket, composed of Elmore, Peyton, Stone, Florence, Hundley and Straub, was gotten up in his interest, as not a single one of them is pledged to him for attorney. All the same, however, most of them are for him.

MR. W. H. PARSONS will get only $140 per year for carrying the mail between this place and McKinney, or a little over 41 cents per round trip. In short he will carry Uncle Sam's mail 4,008 miles for the above amount. Of course he will make some pocket change carrying passengers, packages and the like.

A REPUBLICAN liar has busied himself by telling in the West End that Senator Goebel is very mean to his wife—when it is a well-known fact that he has never been married. A young lady of that section, who is an intense democrat, was so worried by the report that she wanted us to get out a special edition to nail the lie.

I GUESS everybody in your town is for Taylor," an I. J. reporter remarked to a Livingston gentleman, who is in the employ of the L. & N. "Not by a long shot," he answered. "Goebel will get lots of votes in my town and L. & N. men will cast a goodly number of them. Don't believe all you hear about railroad men being against the democratic ticket," he added.

TONIGHT is Halloween, when witches are abroad and spirits in the air; the night when you put fern seed in your shoe and carry jack-o'-lanterns; the night when you go down the cellar stairs backward, with a lighted candle in one hand and a mirror in the other, and you see your sweetheart's face in the mirror. We are told that many young ladies have been carrying lemons tied to their lower limbs for several days, in hopes, doubtless, of creating a charm and drawing a beau.

GOV. BRADLEY is also going to speak from a special train but, he will pick his company. He will start from Ashland on the 2d, accompanied by Lt. Gov. W. J. Worthington, Judge A. T. Wood, R. C. Burnes and John W. Throckmorton, and will speak along the line of the C. & O. that day. The next, 3d, he will "tell the tale" along the Cincinnati Southern to Junction City, arriving there at 2:30 and at Stanford at 3, remaining here till 3:45 and then to Lancaster, reaching there at 4:15. An hour will be spent there and then to Richmond, where a set speech will be made at 7 P. M.

JAMES C. BRYAN has a plum tree that has borne twice this year and is in full bloom again.

A WILD goose has taken up with Wesley Holtzclaw's geese and seems as much at home as the rest of them.

THE are about 100 Louisville Posts delivered here daily. After the L. & N. stops paying for them and Goebel is elected, there won't be five.

MUSKRATS.—Jamie and Hubert Carpenter and Irvine Newland are the boss muskrat killers, having exterminated a dozen or more in the last few days.

THE Richmond brass band went down to Lebanon this morning to play for a reception that will be given Senator Goebel when he speaks there this afternoon.

PASSED.—John E. Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, and Hunt McMurtry, of Lancaster, successfully passed the census examination and will be appointed to clerkships.

SPEAKING.—Judge R. J. Breckinridge will speak at Junction City Friday, Saturday and Danville Monday. Go and hear the splendid gentleman and democrat.

SWEEENEY tonight at the court-house, Taylor and his gang Wednesday and Gov. Bradley Friday ought to give those who like that kind of thing enough of that kind of thing.

SALE.—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hundley have sold to Mrs. Bettie Barnett the house and eight acres of land on the Hustonville pike, a mile from town, for $1,200. It is now occupied by Joe Goode and family.

CIRCUIT COURT will begin next Monday with only 36 cases on the Commonwealth's docket, 15 ordinary, 21 ordinary appearances, 20 equity appearances and 90 old equity cases. Clerk J. F. Holdam tells us it is the lightest docket for years.

RUSSELL'S COMEDIANS, an up-to-date minstrelsy and vaudeville organization, will appear at Walton's Opera House, Nov. 9th, one night only. It carries a large band and orchestra, and the company gives a street parade in uniforms. They travel in their own special car "Venus," said to be a very fine one.

MR. WM. HUSER was here from Ottendorf yesterday and said that democracy would more than hold its own with the Germans over there. The republicans brought a German named Werth from Louisville to speak there Saturday night, but he knew so little and made such a botch of his arguments that he did their cause no good. Bob Davison followed him and ranted and raved against Goebel, whom he called all sorts of names. Only about two dozen were present.

A LARGE crowd greeted Judge R. J. Breckinridge at Crab Orchard Saturday afternoon and he gave it democratic doctrine pure and eloquently expressed. Col. W. G. Welch introduced him and took occasion to say many good words for the ticket, and especially for Hon. M. F. North, in whose race he is deeply interested. So far as we can learn there is only one former democrat, who will vote for Taylor and only two others who will not vote in the governor's race, but for the rest of the democratic ticket.

McKITTRICK.—Of kidney trouble, after a short confinement, Mr. Duquesne McKittrick passed away at 9 o'clock Saturday night, aged about 76. He was born in Washington county and inherited the farm that he owned from his grandmother, who lived to be 103 years of age. His wife died six or eight years ago, but five children survive him, Mrs. Alice Lytle, Mrs. Millie West, D., Sam and Wallace W. McKittrick.

Mr. McKittrick was a member of McCormicks church for over 40 years and besides being an upright, christian man, was a democrat of the straightest sect. After a funeral service by Rev. C. E. Powell Sunday afternoon, the remains were laid away in the cemetery at the church he loved and in which he worshipped so long, with many sorrowing friends present to pay the last tribute of respect.

HORACE BOWMAN bought of Joe McDowell 30 yearlings, about 700 pounds average, at $30. He also bought of Henry Kertz, of Burgin, 24 acres of hemp at $4.50.—Advocate.

M. C. COVINGTON, of Caleast, sold to J. W. Bales 63 cattle, averaging 1,350 pounds, at $124. T. J. Curtis sold 32 yearling mules to W. N. Jones, of Tennessee, at $58.—Richmond Pantograph.

JONAS WEIHL made a shipment this week of 300 export cattle, from 1,400 to 1,500 pounds, for which he paid 5c. The Paris Kentuckian mentions also 30,140 pounds at $4.85 and 21 of 1,100 pounds at 4c.

At a public sale of Short-horns at Henry, Ill., 39 females averaged $295.50 and 11 bulls averaged $306.35; at Ocoee, Ia., 37 females averaged $105 and 16 bulls $103.75, and at Fayette, Mo., 25 females averaged $102 and 11 bulls $85.25.

At a public sale of Short-horns at Henry, Ill., 39 females averaged $295.50 and 11 bulls averaged $306.35; at Ocoee, Ia., 37 females averaged $105 and 16 bulls $103.75, and at Fayette, Mo., 25 females averaged $102 and 11 bulls $85.25.

A battle between the Boers and British was fought at Ladysmith. The Boers began shelling the town, but their heavy guns were soon silenced. They then advanced on the British left flank and the whole British army at Ladysmith was surrendered.

The South Atlantic Squadron with Admiral Schley in command has been ordered, or soon will be ordered, to the scene of South African hostilities.

Sigmund Brosch and Emil Swart, who killed their benefactor by gagging him with a potato, were found guilty of murder at Chicago.

The supreme court has denied a rehearing in the Kentucky bank cases. The court of appeals will adjourn Nov. 2 to the 9th.

LATER—Mr. Shannon sent out a large number of advertisements and yesterday Mr. Ben Bright, of Boyle, came and proving property, paid expenses and took the mare home. The marshal has three horse thieves for the coming court, for which he is sure of $50 each from the State.

FRED HAYS, son of Brent Hays, colored, died Monday after a short illness, which began with dumb chills.

MRS. ELIZA RHINOCK, mother of Mayor Rhinock, of Covington, died of asthma, aged 78. She was born in Stanford.

ADDITIONAL APPOINTMENTS.—Hon. M. F. North will speak at Yocom's School House, on Green river, Nov. 3d, and at Kingsville Nov. 4th, both at 7 P. M. Mr. McRoberts has an appointment at South Fork Thursday night and Mr. North will meet him there.

IN Hon. M. F. North, the democrats have an able and fearless champion of their principles, a man who has been often tried and never found wanting and one, who is the peer at least of his opponent, in moral and in personal standing. He made us a most excellent representative and is better able than before to do the State good service. His election will give a very blackeye to the republican braggarts, who are claiming the election of their man so vociferously, and we trust, and believe there is a decided surprise in store for them. Let every democrat do his duty and North will represent us again and by a majority so large that the republican candidate will regret forever his decision to enter politics, after holding aloof so long and letting other republicans fight the battles.

William J. Cloyd bought in Pulaski a bunch of yearling steers at 4c and some butcher stuff at 2c to 3c.

The Kentucky Derby has closed with 145 entries, 14 more than last year. The Clark stakes has 119 and the Oaks 101.

CRAB ORCHARD, Oct. 29.—We are having three or four speeches a week here now. Col. Breckinridge spoke yesterday to a good audience and his speech was well received and liberally applauded. It was in strange contrast to the incendiary and strife-stirring speech of the candidate for secretary of State on the republican ticket, who here spoke of trees bearing a strange kind of fruit, human dead bodies. So far from repenting of such unpatriotic utterances, he goes on to Middlesboro and repeats it, and no doubt has repeated it over the State as many times as he has spoken his dessicated speech. This is in keeping with the utterances of the republican candidate for governor, who, I am informed, advises the rifle and shotgun to be carried to the polls, thus converting the hosts of sufferers into an army of soldiers to slay their brothers, when the constitution requires all soldiers to be removed two miles from election grounds before the election is held. Such men's names should not be called. Erostratus burned the Temple of Diana to acquire deathless immortality. He did acquire it, but 'tis the undying immortality of infamy. I am completely disgusted with so called self-made men. They are always too proud of the job and never finish it, and never learn to pronounce their words. A Negro once told me that a Negro might graduate in all the colleges in the world and he could never speak grammatically.

The candidate for secretary of State, who spoke here, was a very good speaker to hold an audience, but he lacquered my classical tympanum fearfully by his mis-pronunciation—measure—measure, passed—passed weary—worry id est omne genus. The egotism of a self-made man is most unbearable. I am one myself and I ought to know. And I do know.

And another thing the candidate for secretary of State was remarkable for misrepresentation. Speaking on the non-collection of franchise from corporations, he did not tell that the corporations kept the matter in the courts as long as they could, nor did he tell that a republican board of equalization appointed by a republican governor had reduced the assessed property of the corporations more than $12,000,000, and raised it on the farmer 15 cents on the $100. What matters the collection of $5 on the corporate head of a corporation if you reduced the rate of taxation on its property so they will make 25 or 50 per cent by the operation? There is a Latin maxim that the suppression of truth is a falsehood. Yes and sometimes a most flagitious one.

It will never do to allow the State government to go into the hands of incendiaries, and fanatics, who are a dangerous compound of fanaticism and political cupidity. My old housekeeper, Mrs. Pigg, says she was born in East Tennessee and has been all over Kentucky and she never saw a radical yet that was worth $500. Rally around the flag of democracy and keep the reins of government in the hands of those who pay the taxes.

FONTAINE FOX BOBBITT.

SOON TO SAIL.

CAMP MEADE, PA., Oct. 26.—The "old reliable I. J." is always welcome at home, but much more so when one is hundreds of miles away. Have just come in from battalion drill. We'll now drill eight hours a day, including dress parade. Our officers for the most part are regular army officers or have seen service in the volunteer service. The secretary of war will review the 4th Sunday and, of course, every man will be expected to be in trim, so to speak.

I want to correct an error that had in your issue of the 24th. Col. Howe is commander of the 47th regiment, which is slated to leave Saturday for the Philippines. Col. Richmon commands the 41st regiment and what he doesn't know about military tactics isn't worth knowing. The companies of this regiment will average 125 men, while the maximum number is 100. Before the departure of the regiment for the Orient, there will be another examination and only the picked will go. As it is I am little concerned as long as I have the adjutant general backing me.

It is a sure thing that this regiment will go across the Atlantic through the Suez Canal. It will take about six weeks to make the trip. The regiment is slated to leave Nov. 26th. The 1st week and the same will be kept up until the regiment leaves the States.

All at present drilling in company, battalion and regimental formation are going through skirmish drills and bayonet charges.

The fare is as good as could be expected in the army and the only objectionable feature I find is not getting enough, or rather all I want, I should say.

MICKEY FINN ON FISHING.

A Few Waltonese Remarks From an Experienced Angler.

"Speakin' o' fishin'," said Rafferty, "give me the fish that feed on the bottom. To hook an ould tin paint full o' mud and clam shells and seaweed is almost as much fun as listenin' to a Dutch band play 'Götterdämmerung.'

"When you are fishin' for paint pails always try to hook them by the handle. That will give the pail a good chance to monkey wid the tide when you start it from its sulky position on the bottom.

"Paint pails are bottom fish. 'Tis not like the bluefish, becase it never makes dyn jumps in the air, but 'tis a gamy ould sea dog for all that. 'Twill fight for every inch o' line. There never was a man that hooked a paint pail but thought he had a codfish weighin' 15 pounds. Codfish are just about as gamy as paint pails.

"When you have the paint pail reeled in, it's all the same whether you use a landing net or a gaff hook. When you have it in the boat, you can call on your imagination and think 'tis a lobster, which it will be, like the Dutch woman kept the hotel out west.

"But paint pails are not the only things that feed on the bottom. There's the ould boot. There was a time when Irishman used to wear boots, but not now. The only place you will find 'em is in your favorite fishin' spot. The ould boot is a godsend to little eels to hide in. An eel as long as a lead pencil will carry your bait into the boot leg.

"You think you have a bite, and you hook the boot leg through the strap. That's what straps are put there for. There is no danger of the hook tearin' out, and the ould boot will not spit out the bait, but you must handle the boot leg gently, becase gentlest fishermen is always more successful. The ould boot leg will lay quiet in the boat, but if he should get frisky you can drop the anchor on him.

"But if you want rale fun fish for toadfish. He has jaws like a rat trap and skin like sole leather. You had better take a vise and a cold chisel along to get the hook out of his mouth, for he will close on a piece of crab like a safe door on a sore finger.

"But what a divil's grin the toadfish wears when you cut off about a yard of leader at a quarter a foot and throw fish and leader overboard because you are afraid to touch the thafe!"—Mickey Finn in New York World.

His Modest Request.

"I am your friend," said the doctor to the sick citizen, "and I must not deceive you. You have only two hours to live."

"Only two hours?"

"Only two."

"An you say you are my friend, doctor?"

"Then do me one last favor."

"Name it."
